

Hi Steph,

Yes he should miss out on PE, his assignment is well below what it should be for sure, where do we go from here? I don't know. I think the contract thing in his dairy works really well because it makes him accountable for his own actions, other than that I really don't know what to do with him, does he need any extra help? or is that what he wants.

Dear Melissa,

This is the work [REDACTED] submitted today for an assignment that we had been working on for two weeks, which included all of our allocated homework time. I have attached his powerpoint that he has made along with an A grade example (please do not share this with him because I think he needs to miss out on PE this week and complete the assignment.)

Liam has clearly not done much work in class, he is not reading the criteria sheet which I have also attached and he is not doing his homework.

Do you agree that he should miss out on PE this week?

He will fail this assignment if he does not do more work on it. At the moment he is sitting on 13/60 which is an E+

He has not included any data/ analysis or a conclusion.

Steph

Hi Jane,

Thankyou for letting me know. I hope that Danie has a speedy recovery.

I have attached the new Science/English assignment.

He can try and start this. I have also attached the feedback for his last Science Assignment.

Hopefully this helps him for this next one.

Take care and thankyou for keeping me in the loop,

Steph ☺

Hi Stephanie,

Hope you had a lovely weekend.

Our shearing went well but unfortunately Danie was sick yesterday and didn't get to help in the shed, he rested at the house and in the sun after having a night with croup. He did help me out preparing snacks and lunch which was great. He is still off today with a cold and after a late drive home it was best to keep him home to recover. If you have any work that you think he can do at home please send through and he can plod along at home.

Regards,

Jane

Hi Stephanie,

Hope you have a lovely weekend.

Just confirming that Daniel will be away on Monday as we are shearing our sheep.

Regards,

Jane

Hi Bernadette,

No worries ☺

I will make sure he can navigate and use the required tools for the task.

Thankyou for bringing this to my attention.

Steph ☺

Hi Steph,

Thanks, I spoke to Harley about his behaviour yesterday and he said he was having difficulty working on his computer again, he said he asked for help but the teacher did not know how to find arrows etc on his tablet. This does not excuse his behaviour, but I think he needs help navigating his laptop and understanding programs such as PowerPoint etc. as he is still having some difficulties with this.

Thanks for your ongoing support.

Cheers,

Bernadette

Subject: New Science Task

Hi Bernadette,

I have attached our new Science/English task due next Tuesday (this is what Harley should have worked on today in study). We will have a considerable amount of class time to work through this but I just thought you might like to also have a copy of it so that you can help Harley at home with it if he finds any of it difficult.

Harley should also have finished question 1 and 2 ready for tomorrow.

I hope that you are well.

Steph ☺

Dear Jane,

No worries about picking up Daniel early. He did let me know at the start of the day that he would be leaving early. He also told me that he had a note in his diary which was left at home. Daniel did sound sick today and was still a little flat so I have told him not to worry about his spelling for this week. He will just have a little Science to catch up on, but he did make a great start on it today.

Also in regards to the Academic Achievement Awards they are given out each semester to students that average an A in their semester report. Names are published in Connections at start of term 3 and are given out at the next assembly, which is Thursday morning next week.

Take care,

Steph ☺

Hello Stephanie,

Hope you are enjoying the sunshine.

I will pick Daniel up at 2.30pm today as he has P.E. and don't think he will be up to running around. I had a note in his diary but he has left it home. Would have stayed at home today if I had let him.

Can I please ask what entitles a student to an Academic Achievement Award? A list of names were in the Cornerstone "Connections" newsletter last week.

Regards,

Jane
