

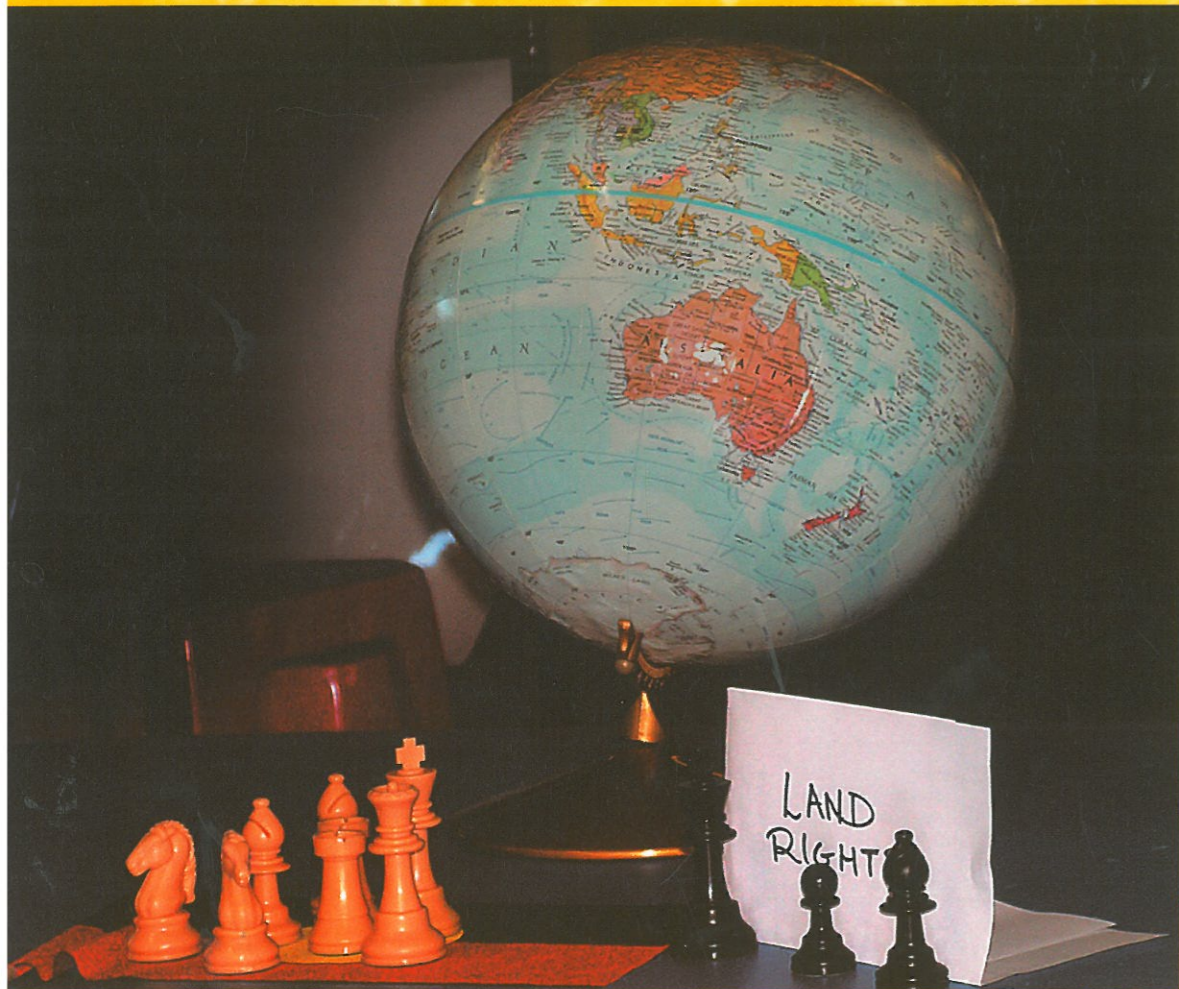

Image 5

- This image — both explicitly and implicitly — identifies some issues standing in the way of reconciliation. What are they?

- What other issues affecting Indigenous people do you think need to be resolved?
- What feelings are expressed in this picture?

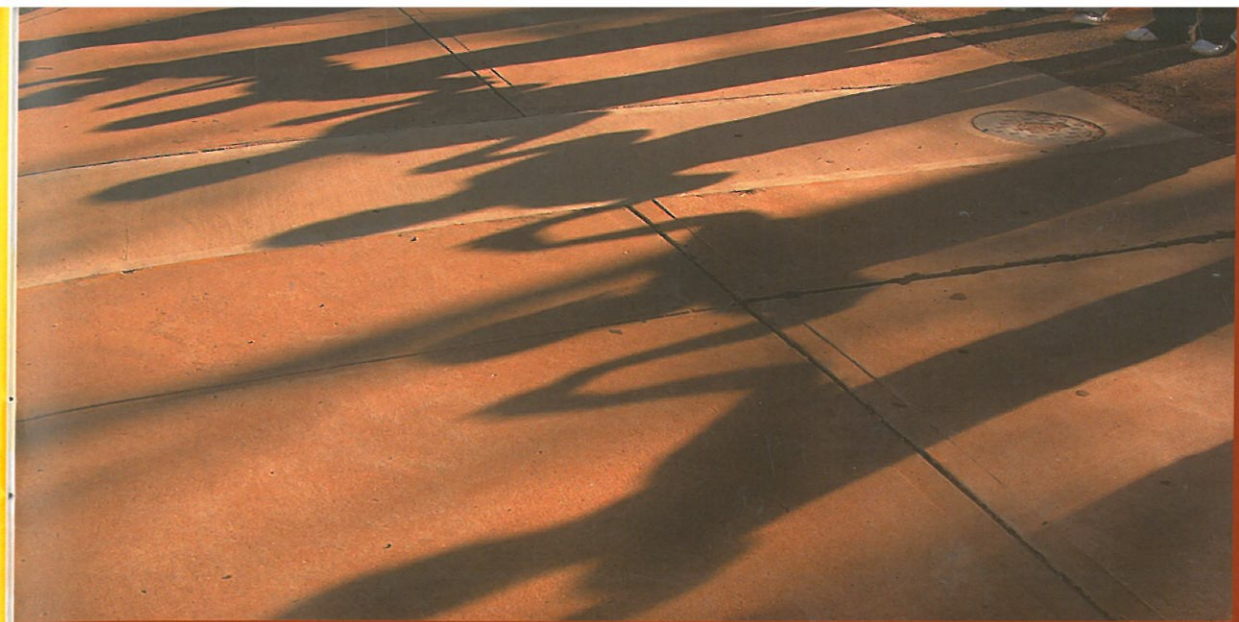

Image 6

- Why have the artists of these pictures not used human images?
- What is the strong message shared by both of these pictures?
- Footprints have been frequently used in traditional and contemporary Aboriginal art. Usually this art depicts the print of a bare foot. What is the artist saying with this image of a shoeprint?
